Briefs...

Since nobody said anything about the Ocean Avenue Mall and your editor was too busy taking notes to say anything at the planning commission hearing Monday night of last week, we'd like to say something now:

Malls are very much the thing. You're not chic without one. So many California towns, little and big, want malls that the state legislature has passed a bill so that cities and towns may use gas tax money on streets with malls. Heretofore, gas tax money could be used only for through thoroughfares. So if we don't have a mall, we're going to be out of step with everybody else . . . different.

But our progressive planning commission has spared us that blunder. They keep informed. They take field trips to other towns. They study other city ordinances and plans. As a result, they're not going to let us go on being backwoodsy.

We're going to have a mall, and one-way traffic. Imagine a town with not one single one-way street in this enlightened day of planned peregrinations!

And that reminds us of the progressive little town in Mississippi Cliff heard about over TV. Since everybody is having traffic flow and one-way streets, they decided to get in the swim and made a one-way street. Then they ran into difficulty. They didn't have another street to come back on.

The April issue of California Journal of Secondary Education contains an article, A "Poor Man's" Language Laboratory, by Donald Craig, Carmel High School Spanish instructor.

Mr. Craig writes about the inestimable value to teachers and students of mechanical and electronic aids used in language laboratories. He admits that $13,000, the cost of a modest language laboratory, is beyond most school districts' financial capacities, then describes the simplified language laboratory which he constructed and uses in his Spanish classes at Carmel High School. It consists of

A New Deal: Putnam, Whitaker, Whittlesey Elected To Council

Tuesday Carmel turned out in in numbers never equalled before to elect three new city councilmen: Frank Putnam, merchant; Eben Whittlesey, lawyer; Francis Whitaker, blacksmith. Of a registration of 2810, 1646 voters, 58.5 percent, made their choice among nine council candidates. They cast a decisive vote of confidence, 1222, for unopposed incumbent City Clerk Larry Rose. They re-elected City Treasurer Sam Coleman, giving him a comfortable margin, 747 votes to 570 for Speirs Ruskell. Tom May, the only incumbent council candidate, failed of re-election.

The vote: Putnam, 860; Whittlesey, 816; Whitaker, 710; May, 627; Strum, 545; Jackson, 452; Law, 306; Franke, 185; Hall, 173.

Forty-two absent ballots have been taken out; 36 have been returned, City Clerk Larry Rose reports. The margin between the

"Children Want Facts," Says Elizabeth Clemons Author of 13 Juveniles

BY JOHN UPTON

"Most writers of children's books don't give their readers enough credit for wanting clear, straight facts. Children want books with meat in them," says Elizabeth Cameron Clemons, Pebble Beach author who will be guest of honor Saturday, April 16, at a publisher's party to be held at the Wells' Book and Music Shop from 4:30 - 6:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Clemons will be presented by the Lane Publishing Company on the occasion of the release of Rodeo Days, her thirteenth book for young people.

Illustrator of Rodeo Days, Carmel Valley artist Jack Swanson, will also be present at the autograph party.

Children like information, Mrs. Clemons believes, and in the past seven years she has given it to them on many subjects—words, farms, babies, trains, fire engines, trucks, airplanes, ships, and internal combustion engines.

"When I was an editor of children's books," she says, "hundreds of manuscripts came across my desk. It was then I realized that good factual books were few and far between. So I decided to write some myself."

Rodeo Days tells young readers almost anything they might like to know about cowboys, horses, and roundups. Illustrator Jack Swanson has done an excellent job with his highly authentic oil originals of rodeo scenes. Both pictures and text have received the official approval of the Rodeo Cowboys Association. It was written for children in the 7 - 12 age group.

Mrs. Clemons has no objections to the so-called "picture books" for children — long on highly-colored illustrations and short on text.

"These are escape literature, as

Easter Observances In Carmel Churches Start This Evening

Carmel churches are holding special services starting with Last Supper observances this evening, solemn Good Friday services tomorrow, Paschal Candle lighting ceremonies on Saturday and Easter Sunday services.

Following is an account of the Easter season observances of All Saints' Episcopal Church, the Church of the Wayfarer, the Carmel Presbyterian Church, Carmel Mission Basilica and the Unity Congregation.

A Celebration of the Holy Communion tonight at 8:00 o'clock honors the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper at All Saints' Episcopal Church. Tomorrow, Good Friday, three one-hour services will be held, a Children's Service at 10:00 o'clock, Meditation on the Passion at 1:30, Evening Prayer and Address at 8:00 o'clock.

On Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock the Paschal Candle will be lit at All Saints'. Baptisms and a Children's Easter Party in the Parish Hall will follow.

Easter Sunday will be celebrated with four Festival Celebrations of the Holy Communion at 7:00, 8:00, 9:15 and 11:00 o'clock. At the 11:00 o'clock service the choirs will sing the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's Messiah under the direction of Robert Forbes.

On Easter Monday All Saints' Episcopal Parish will be addressed by the Warden of the Mission in Kearnsey, Africa, the Reverend

5 Arrested In Crack Down On Beach Litterers

There was a big beach beer party at Cooke's Cove last night. Fifteen men and women enjoyed themselves in orderly fashion until 2:30 this morning. This disorder became evident after the partiers went home.

"The beach is a shambles," Chief of Police Clyde Klaumann stopped long enough signing warrants for the arrest of the five party hosts this morning to comment. "Trash, cartons, beer cans . . . we got a photographer down there to take pictures to use as evidence. We warned them three times during the night that they are required to clean up after themselves. Now we're going to crack down. It's a misdemeanor to litter the beach."

Last week the city council passed an ordinance raising the fine for a misdemeanor from $200 to $500.

The men who will have to answer for the offense are: Joseph Mangello, Dick Sely, Wally Abernathy, Bruce Beattie, servicemen at Fort Ord who live off base in a house they have rented at Carmelo and Santa Lucia; and Dick Ledbetter of Carmel.

Beach litter this week has reached a point where it is competitive with the police work of squelching incipent "hell raising" on the part of the city's juvenile Easter Week visitors.

Early in the evening, Chief Klaumann, seeing the beer party in progress in the Cove, investigated, and satisfied that there were no juveniles involved, warned the partiers to clear up their litter and left them to their fun.

Around 10:00 p.m. Police Officer Bob Fisher, on patrol, stopped to warn them about the litter ordinance.

Around 2:00 o'clock this morning, Officer Del Wermuth, passing on patrol, also stopped to remind them about the litter.

Three extra men have been on duty this week to keep an eye on the juveniles. Six have been arrested for possession of liquor by a minor; police have phoned their parents and the latter have been put to the inconvenience of coming from San Francisco, Piedmont and Berkeley to take their kids home. The "phoning the parents" policy, instituted by Chief Klauman several years ago has been highly effective, so that the one time dreaded "Hell Week" in Carmel has become a memory.

The juvenile arrests were made on the beach, in cars, and in a motel room on the complaint of the proprietor.

Carmel Planners Propose Relocating Mountain View

The planning commission's proposed plan for the Carmel central business district will wear the same look when it goes before the city council as it had when it confronted the citizens at public hearings before the planners April 4 and yesterday afternoon.

After listening to Warren Crabtree, and looking at pictures he had taken of narrow, woodsy upper Eighth Street, the commission considered deleting the proposed park-closure of the Ocean Avenue entrance of Mountain View. They agreed with Mr. Crabtree that closure of Mountain View would transfer the burden of 80 Acres traffic onto Eighth Street and lead to its widening.

Commissioner George Willox had a possible alternative; perhaps Mountain View could be re-rout-

Sunset Serenade Benefit Program For Youth Center

Four bands will play popular music for Sunset Serenade, Carmel Youth Center benefit program, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings in Sunset School Auditorium at 8:00 o'clock.

Herb Miller's Band will present jazz tunes played in the style of his brother, Glenn Miller. The Monterey Peninsula College Festival Band with 17 members will play progressive jazz. Another band of seven players from MPC will play Dixieland and high-school-age jazz musicians, G. Sharpe and his 18 Naturals, will also appear on the program.

Sunset Serenade replaces the annual Youth Follies. Funds raised from the two performances will be used to maintain the Youth Center which is facing a financial crisis because the Community Chest has drastically cut its allocation to Carmel's teenage recreation center.

Rush On Already For Bach Festival Season Tickets

The St. Matthew Passion and the Magnificat, both of which have been performed with outstanding success by Bach Festival choruses and orchestras in past years, have been selected for the 23rd annual festival.

Well over one hundred season tickets for the event, to be held in Carmel July 18-24, have already been sold to former subscribers from all parts of the country, according to Mrs. Alastair MacKay, manager of the festival this year.

The sales followed recent circulation by mail of several hundred brochures listing the program, which will be dedicated this year to the late Miss Dene Denny, who with Hazel Watrous founded the festival in 1935.

Returning to perform this year is a large slate of well-known artists, including tenor James Schwabacher, viola da gamba player Eva Heinitz, organist Ludwig Altman and harpsichordist Ralph Linsley, who holds the record for a returning festival performer since he will mark his 22nd season this summer.

May 15 is the deadline for former season ticket holders to reclaim their seats. After that, the season tickets, which space limitations confine to 400, will be opened on a first-come-first-served basis.

Tickets for individual performances, however, may be purchased until June. Additional ticket information is available from Mrs. MacKay, MA 4-3437.

Except for Easter Week, when rehearsals have been discontinued for the vacation, local Bach choristers have been rehearsing the Matthew Passion every Tuesday evening at Carmel High School. Rehearsal on The Magnificat will begin next week, according to Miss Angie Machado, local choral director.

BRING YOUR DOGS TO CITY HALL TUESDAY

On Tuesday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock dogs will be vaccinated against rabies at a reduced fee if brought to the Carmel city hall parking lot, according to the announcement made yesterday by Dr. Myron W. Husband, Monterey County director of public health.

The rabies vaccination clinic is being sponsored by the county health department in cooperation with the Monterey Bay Veterinary Medical Association. The fee will be $1.50 instead of the usual $3.00 charge for this service.

County dog licenses also will be available at the Tuesday afternoon clinic.

Mr. Clyde Klaumann, Chief
Carmel Police, Department
Carmel, California.

Dear Chief Klaumann;

The Carmel Elementary P-TA Executive Board would like to take this opportunity to congratulate you, and your fellow officers, on the most efficient manner in which your department has kept order in the City of Carmel during the annual Spring vacation period.

It seems that at this time, many young people from other cities visit Carmel. You and your men have encouraged these young people to enjoy the facilities of our City, and yet have required that they behave in a manner acceptable to our Carmel society.

It is our hope that the forthcoming vacation period will prove to be as well-controlled as those in the past.

Sincerely,

Editor, The Pine Cone:

If one had a rare and beautiful tree in one's garden, one would have to tend it carefully. The soil would have to be studied in which it could thrive, where and when to curb its growing branches to preserve its form.

Carmel and one or two other places in California could be likened unto this tree. However, the care of such a tree is far more complex and difficult because one deals with human beings—the community.

If one begins with the natural fact that life is a constant flux of "give and take," such knowledge would change one's sense of value. One begins to see that everything has its price. Peace has its price and so does war. The "more" has its price and so does the "bigger and better." One pays where and when one least expects it.

With this knowledge, it should not be too difficult to take care of this rare and beautiful tree, Carmel.

There are communities where it was possible by physical and financial efforts of each member to build an Art Center Building with an up-to-date theatre, a picture gallery where paintings from all over the state and country are exhibited (in the evenings, this gallery is used for folk dancing and young and old; rich and poor are gathered to have fun together) and with rooms for arts and crafts. This building was designed and built by a fine architect, a member of the community. Another member of the community donated a beautiful park and playground. His value sense thought this of greater importance than more shops and banks. In this park, again by financial and physical effort of members of this community, a concert bowl was erected where during the season out-of-doors concerts and entertainments are given.

A place reflects the spirit of the people who live there, whether they are a community or not.

At present, the Ocean Avenue entrance to our beach looks very tired and worn out.—No—It does not. It looks like a spittoon! Thousands of cigarette butts and packages are buried and unburied in the sand; the trash cans have tumbled over and their contents lie scattered over the beach, as one winds one's way through empty beer cans to the ocean.—The price for the "bigger and better" is evident! And this is "Off-Season!"

It might become necesary for the city to hire guards, to tell those who do not know how to keep our beach clean. A new law might have to be invoked to keep the many dogs on the leash, so one will be able to sit safely on the sand or walk on the sidewalks. All this and more will have to be considered as the "more and bigger and better" claim their price.

If one does have a rare and beautiful tree in one's garden one will have to tend it carefully—to give it the soil wherein it can grow, when and where to curb its growth to preserve its shape.—A deeper sense of value and a responsibility to preserve natural beauty are an unfailing guide. And does not a place reflect what its people are, who live in such a place?

—Elsa Heymann.

Mrs. MacInnes

Mrs. Elizabeth Rebecca MacInnes died on Sunday evening in her home on Fisher Place in Mission Fields. She had been in failing health for some time but her death was unexpected.

Mrs. MacInnes was born on November 12, 1887, in Washington, D. C. She was a member of the Ladies' Sodality of St. Anthony's Church in Washington and of the Carmel Mission Basilica Altar Society.

She is survived by her husband, Archibald A. MacInnes of Carmel; three sons, Lieutenant Commander Michael J. MacInnes, former chaplain at the Navy Postgraduate School now on sea duty, John A. MacInnes of Washington, D. C., and Ernest R. MacInnes of Framingham, Massachusetts; also six grandchildren.

Rosary was recited on Tuesday evening at Mission Mortuary.

Requiem Mass was celebrated yesterday morning at Carmel Mission Basilica. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemeterey, Washington, D. C.

Those wishing to honor the memory of Mrs. MacInnes are asked to do so in the form of spiritual bouquets.

Edith Catlin

Mrs. Edith Margaret Catlin, 85, was found dead on Sunday evening in her home at Perry Newberry Way and Sixth Avenue. She had been in failing health for some time.

Mrs. Catlin was born in St. Peter, Minnesota, on December 22, 1874. Her husband, the late De Forest Catlin, died in Boston in 1949. She was a member of the Church of the Wayfarer.

Survivors are a son, Richard M. Catlin of Carmel; a brother, Grant Montgomery of San Carlos; and four grandchildren, Nancy, Alice, Sarah Ann and Patricia Catlin, all of Carmel.

Funeral services were held yesterday in the Church of the Wayfarer with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray, pastor, officiating. Inurnment followed in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea.

PADRE NINE CLUBS LIVE OAK, 19 TO 10

In a baseball game with a football score, Carmel High's hit-happy aggregation swung for 13 base blows and 19 runs against the Live Oak nine to rack up win number three in league play. The visiting Live Oak Acorns also enjoyed a good day at the plate with 8 hits and 10 runs, but couldn't match the power hitting of Ron Faia, Carlos Montenegro, and Dave Fuller. Faia had a perfect 3-for-3, Fuller hit 2-for-4, and Montenegro connected for a pair of singles in five chances at the plate.

An indication of things to come was apparent in the first frame when the Padres batted around to score nine runs and take a comfortable lead. However, the Acorns hacked away at the nine-run bulge until they closed the gap to 9-7 with three innings left to go. Carmel put on the clincher in the fourth heat when six walks and six safe blows pushed across eight runs. Big blow in the 8th inning uprising was Bob Little's rousing double against the left field fence which drove in three runs.

Carmel's pitching staff got a good workout in this one with Jim Brown, Chris Wilkin, and Forrest Cornwall each taking a turn at stopping the Acorn swingers.

CIRCLING THE BASES

Monterey's Easter Baseball Tournament nearly missed getting off the ground as the rains fell Monday morning, but Director Danny Albert proved to be a good weather forecaster by giving the 'Play Ball' decision as the skies continued to drip. After the first innings of the morning games, the winds blew all signs of rain away and playing conditions remained good for the entire tournament. A classy Santa Cruz squad which was loaded with outstanding pitchers clipped Monterey, 11 to 8, in the finals to take home the championship trophy. Emmett Geiser's Watsonville Wildcats won the consolation bracket by clubbing the Pacific Grove Breakers. Two no-hit performances were recorded during the tournament as pitching dominated the hitting in most of the games. Watsonville's Jim Rose no-hit the Gonzales Spartans and Al McCommon pitched no-hit, no-run ball against Pacific Grove. The Carmel Padres found the competition against Salinas and Monterey a little too tough and was eliminated after the first two games. Carmel was shut out by Monterey, 9 to 0, and dropped an 11-4 decision to the Salinas Cowboys . . . Dale Dawson, ex-Padre baseball star, has broken into the starting lineup of the Cal Aggie baseball team and threatens to become one of the best hitters on the club. An All-League performer while at Carmel High, Dawson has made the Cal Aggie varsity although he is only a freshman at the Davis college . . . A revival in softball interest is apparent around the village with two teams working out at Sunset Field. The Carmel Merchants, skippered by Paul Artellan, will be doing business at the same old stand and a brand new aggregation, managed by Gene Ricketts, is also slated to show its wares in future games at the Sunset diamond. Carmel hasn't enjoyed real softball rivalry since the days of the Pine Cone-Wilder & Jones series which used to draw over a thousand fans to the Sunset orchard . . . Monterey Peninsula Babe Ruth League tryouts are slated for this Sunday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock with boys in the 13-15 age group from Carmel, Carmel Valley, Monterey, and Pacific Grove eligible to participate. As in the Little League tryouts, only those boys who were not on a Babe Ruth League team last year are required to take part in the tryouts. The Carmel and Carmel Valley boys will be assigned to the Carmel squad when the player draw is made after the last tryout camp on May 1.

KING CITY TRACK SQUAD SWAMPS PADRES, 91 TO 24

Taking 12 out of a possible 13 first places, the strong King City track team had little difficulty turning back the challenge of the Carmel High thinclads and won the dual meet with plenty to spare. Carmel's mile duo of Buddy Steffen and Gerhard Kalmus were the only Red & Gray performers to break the King City first place supremacy. Steffen and Kalmus ran one-two in the mile to account for most of the Padre points. The well-balanced Mustang aggregation had good depth and strength in all events and turned in some outstanding times and distances. A Bardarson Field discus record which should stand for many seasons to come was registered by Dave Schmidt, a hulking football tackle, who spun the high school platter 168 feet. The big Mustang weight specialist also won the shot-put with a 53-foot toss.

King City also won the lightweight division, amassing 89 points to 26 for the Little Padres. The Pony squad garnered 11 first place points as Carmel's Terry Bishop won the discus and broad jump to keep the KC Babes from getting a clean sweep.

LITTLE LEAGUE SQUADS SET FOR APRIL 25 OPENER

After three tryout sessions embracing nearly 100 boys in each trial, the Carmel Little League rosters have been set and the teams are holding early and late workouts in preparation for the April 25 league-opener. This year's opener will start at 5:30 and will feature opening day ceremonies whereby players from all six major league teams will be in uniform and take part in the festivities. This is the 20th year of Little League baseball which is played around the world and has 5,228 leagues in 23 nations. An indication of the popularity of Little League ball is shown by the Little League registry which shows over a million minor league teams and over a quarter-million major league teams. This is Carmel's fourth year of Little League play and the village circuit is rated one of the best in Northern California insofar as administration, sportsmanship, and participation are concerned. Directors of Carmel's 1960 Little League are Bob Connell, president; Ralph Thompson, vice-president; Jack Cate, secretary; and Van King, treasurer.

The six teams in the major league will open the season with the following rosters: Wilder & Jones —Jack Mahoney, Dennis Jones, Mike Hutchison, Kim Roberts, Ed Kawanakoa, Jimmy Zils, Dick Thomas, Gary Connell, Joe Pistulka, Brad Jones, Hart Silverie, Tony Helm, and Zack Arnold. San Carlos Realty—Craig Cunningham, Bucky Bucquet, Joe Stevens, Tim Templeton, Larry Little, Jim Sparolini, Eric Low, Ty Seeders, John

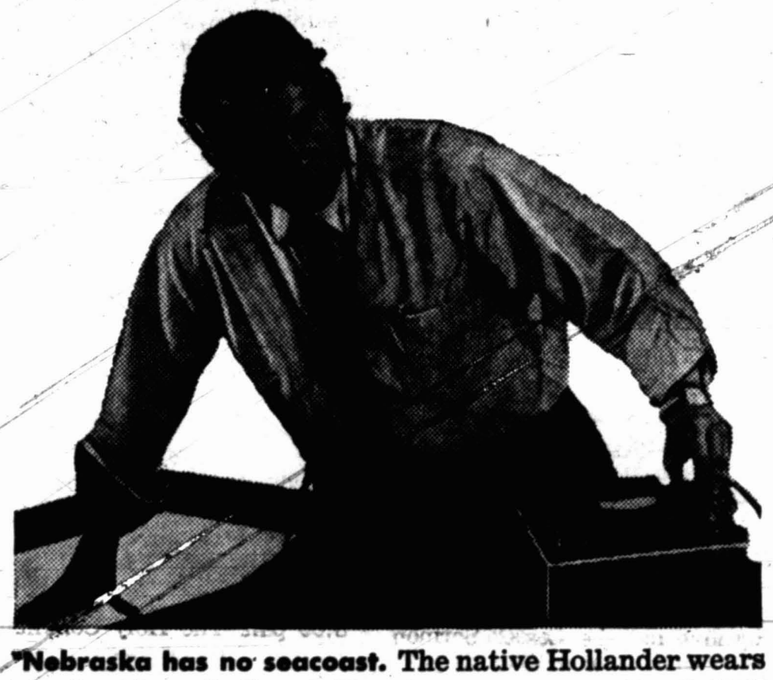
WHAT'S DOING
D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel



"Nebraska has no seacoast. The native Hollander wears wooden shoes." Sound like strange conversation? Bell Telephone Laboratories engineers don't think so. It's part of a test to lessen noise on your phone. These sentences are taped against a background of noise, then played over phones to listeners who rate how clearly they sound. Our engineers learn a lot from this test—another way we work to bring you trouble-free phoning.

Each pair of insulated gloves worn by telephone men has a date stamped on it. On that day, he'll turn them in for a new pair so the old ones can get their "bath". But it's not to keep them clean. This "bath" has 10,000 volts of electricity shooting through it and if there's the slightest flaw in a glove, a hot blue arc warns: "Throw it out!" This attention to what seems a small detail is mighty important to telephone men who might work near power lines. And, because they know they're safe on the job, they can devote all their skill to bringing you good service.*

Betty White, chief operator in Monterey, is pictured here looking over plans for the installation of four new positions of toll boards. This is only part of our expansion program designed to keep abreast of growing communities in order to give our customers the best service possible.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Christ Jesus' teachings about the indestructible relationship of God and man will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science services.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Doctrine of Atonement" is the Golden Text from I John (2:1): "If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous."

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (18:1-5): "Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life, and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage."

The closing Scriptural selection to be read is from John (3:17): "For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved."

Anna Aiken

Mrs. Anna Lee Aiken, 88, died in a local rest home on Tuesday after a long period of failing health. She had been a resident of Carmel since 1928 when she and her late husband, Alfred L. Aiken, came here from Worcester, Massachusetts.

Mrs. Aiken was born in Worcester on March 6, 1872. Her home was on Upper Trail, La Loma Terrace. She was a member of St. John's Chapel, Del Monte.

Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Dorothy L. Colvin of Pacific Grove.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in St. John's Chapel with the Reverend Bernard N. Lovgren officiating. Inurnment will be in the family plot in the Worcester, Massachusetts, Rural Cemetery.

PARABLE

Bird on the Cross. A
Wing of the Apocalypse.
Or picture in living air:
A man soaring
With nails through
His hands and feet
How he got himself
Understood
By dying
How he rose
From the swamp
Teaching fire—How he Taught it to jump
Taught it to be Warm
Never to go out
They had killed him so Often
That when his time finally Came
He just couldn't die anymore

ALL NATURE SINGS

Yellow-legged bees hum
Dreamy lyrics to me,
There is a song of joy from
A bird in every tree.
A song in the heart of nature,
Heard all over the land—
Why is there less rejoicing
In the heart of man?

—ESTELLE DAVIS TAYLOR

EASTER OVERTURE
(Maui)

Down April morning
Flows the largo of the bells
In mood andante of an Easter dawn.
Beyond wind tremolos of island grass
Staccato waves beat pebbled shores
And misted scherzos shadow lava peaks.
Now woodwinds breathe through lyric palms
Of tall bamboo and lush green mountain ti.
From temple trees
Sun-fragrant crosses fall in lento theme
On moist lauhala-shaded lawns.
White bird of paradise
Stand silently among the fern
As allamandas offer golden cups
In open-petaled grace,
And fingers of the sun compose
Renascent chords for spring.

Wilderness Of The West

A Monthly Column
by C. Edward Graves

14. SENATOR KUCHEL SUPPORTS WILDERNESS BILL

A press release from the office of Senator Thomas H. Kuchel, dated March 27, announces his support of the Wilderness Bill and gives the text of a letter that he wrote to Senator James E. Murray, Chairman of the Senate Committee on the Interior, which has charge of the bill, urging that the bill be reported out of committee immediately. This is an important development in the history of the bill, because Senator Kuchel is an influential member of the Committee on the Interior and up to now he has been hesitant to throw his weight on the side of the bill.

The Wilderness Bill is one of the most important conservation measures ever to come before the voters of the country. Originated by Senator Hubert Humphreys some five years ago, it has been co-sponsored by many of the leading congressmen of both parties and is at present considered as a bi-partisan bill. It is backed strongly by such important conservation organizations as the National Audubon Society, which is concerned with preserving the habitat of bird life; the National Wildlife Federation, which is interested in the habitat of all wildlife; The Wilderness Society and Sierra Club, which are concerned with both the physical and spiritual aspects of recreation; and many other conservation groups.

Up to now the bill has been bottled up in the Senate Committee on the Interior by various devices of its opponents. One of the favorite tricks is to introduce numerous amendments and then demand hearings on them. This is still going on after five years of hearings. However Senator Kuchel has now rebelled against this type of activity. In his open letter to the Chairman of the Committee he has written:

"It is my belief that no further deliberations are necessary on this legislation to establish a wilderness system in the public domain. The time for positive action has arrived. Failure to pass a bill at this Session enabling the Executive Branch of the Federal Government to embark on a sound program in the immediate future would be both a tragedy and a shameful dereliction."

Those are strong words and local conservationists are heartily commending Senator Kuchel for his stand. They hope that he will follow up vigorously on his protest against delay. If the bill can be passed by the Senate soon, it is entirely possible that the House could also take action on it at this Session. Conservationists on the Monterey Peninsula should now urge Congressman Teague to team up with Senator Kuchel on this extremely important issue.

Music On The Peninsula

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

The concert at King Hall for the California Music Educators Association, holding its convention at the Fairgrounds, was an interesting and finely performed event by the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra and soloists, baritone Edgar Jones and flutist Raymond Fabrizio, under Earl Murray's direction. The Bach Suite No. 2 in B minor and The Unanswered Question by Charles Ives presented Monday night will also be part of the May 9 and 10 concerts to which the regular concert-goers can look forward. The Bach is one of the composer's most happy compositions of pure music. Its seven movements in overture and dance forms are led by the flute, the solo of which Fabrizio performed in his finely wrought performance with his wife at their small harpsichord and a string orchestra that included a bassoon, the low notes of which were strikingly effective among the strings. Fabrizio's excellent playing was joy to listen to though all the instrumentalists were giving of their best and were thoroughly appreciated by the many visiting teachers of music present. The Unanswered Question, a quaint composition by Ives in which only four instruments, led by Murray were on the stage while the strings played long sustained notes off stage and a single trumpet intermittently sounded its recurring question in one phrase that finally is unanswered. In other words, a double orchestral group performed under two conductors; the second was Concertmaster Erickson. Edgar Jones, from San Francisco, soloist with the last regular Symphony concert, repeated the interesting Ravel and Mahler groups of songs so successfully given then. His fine musical voice and diction, enhanced with a delightful, interpretive attitude, were even more impressive than formerly and produced much enthusiatic response.

After an opening address and introductions by the Music Educators Association's presiding chairman, Douglas Kidd, the Monterey College Choir filed on to the stage to be conducted by Harvey Marshall in a premiere performance of Philippe Buhler's Cantate Domino (from Psalm 149) accompanied by a brass ensemble. Somewhat monotonous writing, it does not come up to his Symphonic Essay which the Symphony performed at the Winter Concert, though the choir labored hard to give it tonal justice, accompanied by Angie Machado at the piano. In the winter program Buhler was labeled by someone as "home grown," which he is not, as he comes from Switzerland, has only been in Pacific Grove about two years, and his symphony opus was not written on the Peninsula. Many would like to hear some local composers' compositions, actually written here, which, we believe was Murray's idea. Fresh from conducting the San Francisco Symphony last week (which I regretted not being able to attend) our Director delighted the audience at King Hall with his friendly and humorous remarks as well as by his adroit conducting.

Chamber Music Society Arranges Exchange Concert

The Carmel Chamber Music Society, directed by Gilbert Boyer announces an exchange program with the San Francisco Institute of Music and Art on April 24, at 5:00 o'clock in the Carmel Woman's Club. The Chamber Music Society will give its return concert in San Francisco on June 5.

Guest composer-conductor in the performance of his Music for Strings will be Fedor Kabalin, conducting the Carmel Chamber Music Orchestra. The son of a government minister in the prewar Yugoslav monarchy, Mr. Kabalin is now an American citizen. He has received two Masters Degrees in conducting from the Vienna State Academy of Music, and in composition from Northwestern University at Evanston, Illinois.

As conductor he has appeared with the Mozarteum Orchestra at Salzburg, Austria; the Chilean Symphony Orchestra and Chile Films in Santiago, Chile; American Opera Company and Lyric Opera of Chicago and other musical organizations.

His compositions for voice, piano, chamber music, moving pictures, opera and symphony are also widely performed and have earned prizes. Two major works, the Divertimento for wind instruments originally commissioned for the 100th anniversary of the National Conservatory in Santiago, Chili, and the Reflections for orchestra which received an award from the Louisville Orchestra were performed in April at the annual Mid-American Symposium of American Music at the University of Kansas.

Cantos anejos (Songs of Old), a series of a cappella choruses set to Spanish poetry of 16th century is scheduled for performance at the Symposium of Contemporary American Music at the University of Kansas in Larwence next month.

Appearing on the same program will be Maureen Lundroth, and Ross McKee, pianists in the Tcherepnine Suite Georgienne. Miss Lundroth, in addition to her many appearances as soloist in San Francisco, was chosen by the moving picture industry as Miss Gigi of California. Ross McKee is the president of the San Francisco Branch of the California Music Teacher's Association as well as director of the Music and Arts Institute of San Francisco. Mr. McKee has been closely associated with Alexandre Tcherepnine and is qualified to interpret his compositions.

Lidia Romero, soprano will sing Seven Spanish Folk Songs by de Falla, and Betty Hemmingsen, mezzo soprano, the Schumann Frauenliebe und Leben Lieder Cycle. Both singers will be accompanied by Lyle Gardner. Miss Hemmingsen is a graduate of the University of California and a former winner of the San Francisco Municipal Chorus Scholarship. Miss Romero was awarded the Bachelor of Music Degree at Music and Arts Institute in 1959. They both appeared in the Music and Arts Opera Workshop last year in addition to appearances with other organizations.

Honors Assembly At High School Tuesday Morning

The annual Carmel High School Honors Assembly will be on Tuesday morning at 10:45 o'clock in the gymnasium.

Students who have earned ten or more points on the previous semester honor roll will be awarded bronze scholarship pins. Those who are on the semester honor roll for the second time will receive silver pins in exchange for previously awarded bronze pins. Third time placers on the semester honor roll will be given gold pins in exchange for silver pins. Students who have qualified for the semester honor roll five or more times will receive gold pins set with a diamond and their names will be engraved on a placque permanently displayed at the school.

Twelve diamond pins will be awarded on Tuesday morning to outstanding students this year. The pins have been donated by the Carmel Lions Club.

The scholarship program was initated last year and is sponsored and operated by the High School P-TA unit. The Carmel Rotary Club provided the funds to set up the program.

The honor project is designed to increase students' incentive for high scholastic achievement.

Any interested person is invited to attend the second Honors Assembly on Tuesday morning.

"Children Want Facts," Says Elizabeth Clemons Author Of 13 Juveniles

detective novels are for many of us. But the child should have access to simple factual books as well. Pictures are fine, but words mean something, too.

"And there is no harm in a child's reading anything he wants to—even if some of the words are too hard for him. But in the case of the child who doesn't read, it may often be because he is afraid it will be too difficult."

On the controversial subject of rewritten classics for children, Mrs. Clemons takes the middle ground.

"Not for the older readers, certainly. But the younger child should have a speaking acquaintance with the classics, even if he must read them in a simplified form. If he is having reading difficulties, the rewritten version is surely better than none."

From her own childhood, she recalls Lamb's Tales From Shakespeare as a case in point.

Following graduation from San Jose State College, Mrs. Clemons remained on the campus for eleven years as a teacher in the department of education. From 1942 until 1946 she was successively head of the elementary editorial division of John C. Winston Co., Silver Burdett Co., and D. C. Heath. In 1947 she went to Minneapolis to teach English at the University of Minnesota. From 1948 to 1950 she wrote and edited as a consultant in the publications service division of General Mills, which was publishing books for Miller's National Foundation.

The first book to appear under her own name ("I'd hate to tell you how many I had ghosted before that!") was The Pixie Dictionary, brought out by John C. Winston Co. in 1953. It is still being used in the first and second grades in Monterey. There followed The Catholic Child's First Dictionary (she is an Episcopalian), and The Winston Primary Dictionary (published in Canada).

In 1956 Grosset and Dunlap brought out four of her books for the 6-7 age group: A Wish For Billy, I Live on a Farm, Away I Go, and All About Baby. These appeared under the name of Elizabeth Cameron.

Four more were published by the same house and under the same name in 1958: The Big Book of Real Trains, The Big Book of Real Trucks, The Big Book of Real Fire Engines, and Wings, Wheels, and Motors. These were written for the 8-12 age group.

In addition to Rodeo Days, two others are scheduled to appear this spring: Rocks and the World Around You (Coward-McCann), an information-crammed reference book for young rockhounds; and Shells Are Where You Find Them (Alfred Knopf), for seashore collectors.

"I've collected rocks all my life," she says. "There are many good books on the subject, but nothing ever seems to be in one place. The description of a rock appears on one page, and the picture is somewhere else in the book. I've tried to keep everything together. And indexed. All children's books need a good index and a table of contents."

Mrs. Clemons says that her book on rocks has been checked and approved by the staff of the Museum of Natural Science in New York.

For the past four years she has averaged three children's books a year. Since 1950 she has also been a steady contributor of feature articles for such national magazines as Better Homes and Gardens, American Home, House and Garden, Sunset, and Today's Health. Her magazine articles usually emphasize family life and activities. She has also written articles on color for trade magazines.

Mrs. Clemons first came to the Monterey Peninsula the year she was graduated from college, when she taught for a short time in the Monterey schools.

"It was then that I made my mind up to have a home here some day," she recalls.

In 1956 she moved into a cottage in Pebble Beach, where she finished her shell book. She is now a permanent resident.

In addition to working on two new children's books, Mrs. Clemons is working full time as a second-grade teacher at the Juan Cabrillo school in Seaside. She has no children of her own.

"I've been reading everything I could get my hands on since I was four years old," she says, "but I think I owe my interest in factual knowledge to my father, who was from New Zealand. He used to take the family for Sunday walks and explain everything in sight. I can still remember him telling us the reason for the insulators on the telephone lines. "I guess all New Zealanders are fascinated by facts."

Children's Drama Workshop Presents Clown Who Ran Away

The Clown Who Ran Away, a play designed to entertain children of all ages, will have its first performance on the Peninsula on Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre in Carmel.

Produced by The Children's Drama Workshop, The Clown Who Ran Away features one of the Peninsula's leading actors Russell Eddy, in the role of Dodo, the clown. The play was written by Conrad Seiler, is directed by Mrs. DeVera Marcus, assisted by Dan Clark, the technical director. Mr. Clark has recently demonstrated his skill and technique to thousands of Peninsula theatre-goers with his imaginative set design and lighting for The Happiest Millionaire, now playing at the Golden Bough.

The cast of eighteen includes adults, teenagers, and young children. The five magic dolls are portrayed by Peninsula teenagers. The doll designer is Tom Cloud, a teacher at Sunset School, and the part of the policeman is played by Doug Zug, drama teacher at Pacific Grove High School. There are two bad robbers in the story, and the leading lady is Gladys, the Horse.

Lt. Col. Shea

Lieutenant Colonel George Henry Shea (USA ret.) died in the Veterans Hospital in Oakland on April 8 after long illness and hospitalization.

Lieutenant Colonel Shea was born on March 14, 1886, in Massachusetts. He served with the Cavalry during World War I and from 1930-33 was stationed at the Presidio of Monterey with the Eleventh Cavalry. Following this duty he was retired for disability in line of duty and made his home in La Jolla before coming to Carmel almost 20 years ago. During World War II Lieutenant Colonel Shea returned to active duty as a staff officer. His home was on Sixteenth Avenue.

Survivors are his wife, Margaret, of Carmel; a daughter, Mrs. Philip Franklin of La Jolla; two sons, Colonel Leonard Shea, on the general staff of SHARE, and Lieutenant Colonel Jerry Shea (USA Air Service, Helicopters) Fort Rucker, Georgia; and a stepson, William G. Ramadka of San Jose.

Following private funeral services, burial with full military honors took place in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Kurt Gets Second Fellowship

Mrs. Julian von Meier received a letter from her son, Kurt, this week telling her he has been awarded a second graduate fellowship to study at Princeton University. Next year he will work towards a doctorate degree in the history of art on a Woodrow Wilson grant. This year he had a Brookes fellowship at Princeton.

Kurt and his wife, Hildegarde, will come to Carmel in June. It will be Hildegarde's first visit here. She and Kurt were married in Princeton in January after Hildegarde arrived in this country from Germany.

Since graduating from Carmel High School in 1952, Kurt has served two years in the Navy, received a bachelor's degree at the University of California, and spent a year of postgraduate study at the University of Madrid.

Marie Morton

Mrs. Marie Meyer Morton, 79, died on Tuesday morning in a local hospital after a long period of failing health. She was the mother of Mrs. John H. Miller of Carmel.

Mrs. Morton was born on August 1, 1881, in Ouray, Colorado. She came from Lombard, Illinois, with her husband, the late John P. Morton, to live in Carmel in 1944. Her home was at Mountain View and Eighth Avenue.

In addition to her daughter in Carmel, Mrs. Morton is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Jack Glazier of Seaside; two sisters, Mrs. William Hodge of Pacific Grove and Mrs. V. Offenbach of San Francisco; five grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held this afternoon in Paul Funeral Chapel in Pacific Grove with the Reverend Ed Cunningham of the Church of the Oaks officiating. Burial was in Mission Momorial Park.

Carmel Family Easter Customs

Carmel families have various Easter customs, most of them built about egg hunts. An account of several Carmel family Easter observances follow.

George R. Walker Family

The Walkers' Easter will feature Suzie, the six-months-old burro that moved into a scalloped-edge stall on the Walker property in the Eighty Acres three weeks ago.

On Easter Sunday morning, the Walker children, Kathleen, six, Jeff, five, Carolyn, four and Becky, three, will put on Suzie's Easter bonnet, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hittinger Jr. The hat, of natural straw, has a pink camellia decoration at one side and long white ribbon streamers to tie under Suzie's chin in a big bow. Her long ears will poke through two specially provided holes in her bonnet.

Then the children will let Suzie see her Easter finery in the rosebud trimmed white mirror which hangs in her stall, a gift from the Richard Lawitzke family.

Suzie will be led out of her stall and loaded with Easter baskets made by the four children and filled with homemade cookies or nutbread. Then in procession, the Walker family will deliver the baskets to their neighbors in the vicinity of Crespi Lane and Flanders Way.

At the end of the Walker Easter parade, led by Suzie, will be Oliver, their St. Bernard dog.

"He's not quite as tall as Suzie but weighs more," reports Mrs. Walker. Oliver's weight is 165 pounds, Suzie's only 135. "They are great friends," Mrs. Walker adds.

Mr. Walker, an attorney, was president of the Monterey County Bar Association last year, 1959: He is also a deacon of the Carmel Presbyterian Church where the four children will attend Sunday School on Sunday morning and their parents Easter services.

Cate Family Easter

Easter in the family of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Cate of Hatton Fields Mesa begins by attendance at midnight Mass at Carmel Mission Basilica. Then, after the six Cate children, Connie, 15, Steven, 13, Susan, nine, Candy, six, Michael, three, and Joey, one, are asleep, Mr. and Mrs. Cate hide Easter eggs all over the house and also in the garden if the weather is fine. Easter Sunday morning, after breakfast, the hunt takes place. "The older children encourage the younger ones and everyone keeps the dog away," reports Mrs. Cate.

Harold Aldrich Family's Easter

The six children in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Aldrich attend Sunday School at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, before the family Easter egg hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich hide eggs in the yard, assisted by their oldest daughter, Kathy, 17, a senior at Carmel High School. The rest of the children hunt. They are Danny, 13, Patricia, 11, Tommy, 10, Johnny, seven and Marilyn, four.

Busy Williams' Easter

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney L. Williams of Carmel Valley is the scene of much Easter holiday activity this week. Mrs. Williams is the former Martha Millis who grew up in Carmel with her two sisters who have brought their families here for an Easter vacation family reunion at the Williams' home. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Williams and their three children, Eric, Peggy and Tania, are Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Borstelmann (Jane Millis) and their children, Nancy, John, Mike and Thomas, all from Palo Alto; also Dr. and Mrs. Russell Leavenworth (Ann Millis) with their daughters Natalie and Jeanie from Fresno. Another guest is Del Redding, student at Fresno State College.

This afternoon Eric Williams will celebrate his ninth birthday with an Easter egg hunt.

The Williams' visitors will have departed tomorrow but family vacation activities next include a trip to San Francisco so that Mr. Williams can compete on Saturday in the El Toro bullship race which ends at the St. Francis Yacht Club after a bay crossing.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be back in the Valley in time to hide Easter eggs for the children to hunt on Sunday morning. Then the Williams family will attend Easter services at All Saints' Episcopal Church.

Easter Guests of Grandparents

The three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lew McCreery will be the guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. McCreery, on Easter Sunday. Each year Mr. and Mrs. McCreery take the girls to the Easter egg hunt at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club which is followed by a luncheon.

This year, Kathleen, almost five, Diane, three, and Susan, two years old, will have as usual, new dresses for the event. On Sunday they will be waiting for their grandparents to arrive wearing white linen frocks with flower appliques around the neckline and full skirts over flounced petticoats. White hats and gloves will complete their Easter outfits.

Donnan Jeffers' Family

Tor House on Carmel Point, the home of Robinson Jeffers and his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donnan Jeffers, will have a new occupant on Easter Sunday. Donnan and Lee's fourth child, Robin, named after his grandfather, came home from the Peninsula Community Hospital yesterday. He was born on April 7.

Easter eggs will be hunted for Robin by his sister, Una, eight years old, and his brothers, Lindsay, 12, and Donnan, two.

Diana Law To Marry May 21

Mr. and Mrs. Hartland Law have announced the engagement of their only daughter, Diana, to James Allen Russell, son of the Reverend and Mrs. James Lewis Russell of Allendale, Georgia. The marriage will take place in the Carmel Presbyterian Church on May 21 with the bridegroom's father officiating.

Diana was a San Francisco Cotillion debutante in December. She attended Santa Catalina School for Girls before studying in Switzerland.

Her fiance is taking Czech courses at the Army Language School until October.

Former Resident Returns

Mrs. Peter Jay of Berkeley, the former Elizabeth Payne of Carmel, visited here this week. It was the first time in 15 years she had time to look up Carmel friends. Mrs. Jay brought her five-year-old daughter, Julie, with her and enjoyed showing Julie the places she had known and particularly liked when she lived here and introducing Julie to Carmel acquaintances.

After the Carmel visit Mrs. Jay and Julie with Mr. Jay planned to visit Yosemite Valley.

Berrys Have Two Egg Hunts

Early Sunday morning the children of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Berry will hunt Easter eggs in the house. Then Ronnie, Barbara Anne and Debora will go to Sunday school at the Church of the Wayfarer and their parents will attend services at the same church. After this, when everyone is home again, there will be another family egg hunt in the garden.

Kings Home From Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. George King of Carmel Valley are back from a trip to the Hawaiian Islands. They visited Oahu, Hawaii, Maui and Kauai. The Parker Ranch on Hawaii particularly interested them and they also saw ranches on Maui. Mr. King played golf on Honolulu courses and on each island the King's renewed friendships. They flew by jet to the Islands and back.

Dunham Brothers All Home

For the first time in many months brothers Bill, Larry and Mike Dunham are all home in Carmel. Larry has returned from overseas Army duty in New Ulm, Germany. He has been abroad since January, 1958. The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Dunham.

Ex-Policewoman Club Speaker

Members of the Carmel Woman's Club will hear Mrs. Elizabeth Buckley discuss World Experiences of an Ex-policewoman on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Buckley was a member of the Los Angeles Police force for 21 years, also a social worker with the Bureau of Public Assistance.

Tea will be served following the talk.

Aitkenhead Pupils at USO

On Saturday afternoon piano pupils of Margaret Aitkenhead gave a recital of classic, romantic and modern composers' music at the Monterey USO. Introductions to the periods were given by Jean Israel, Duncan Stitt and Alice Macahalig.

Other students participating in the program, titled from Bach To Shostakovich, were Gail Downes, Yates Downes, Carol Heisel, Alice Macahalig, Twig Stephenson, Anne Hicks, Holly Garcia, Rita Wiekhorst, Robert Boyer.

Refreshments were served following the recital.

Hays-Tousey-Kastros Hunt

Three families that live on Atherton Drive across Rio Road from Carmel Mission will hunt Easter eggs together on Sunday morning. The hunt will be held in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Hays. Mr. Hays will play the role of Easter Bunny and hide his family's gaily colored eggs, also those provided by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tousey and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kastros.

"At a given signal we'll let the children loose," Mr. Hays says. Hunters will be Donnie, Curt and Valerie Hays; Mitchell, Demetrios and Maria Kastros; Susan and Tay Tousey. "And parents will help the very little ones," Mr. Hays promises

New League Members

Ten Monterey Peninsula League Inc. neophytes were admitted to provisional membership on April 7 at a tea given in their honor at the home of Mrs. Mathew C. Jenkins in Pebble Beach.

Among the new members are Mrs. Roderick L. Dewar (Peggy Riker), Carmel, who attended Carmel schools and Vassar College and has a son, Scott, three years old; Mrs. Loran A. List, Jr., Pebble Beach, Sullins College, Southern Methodist University and twin daughters, Kimberly and Barkley, five; Mrs. Walter R. Newman (Joanne Gorham), Carmel schools, Stanford University, two sons, Martin, seven, and William, three; Mrs. David Thorngate, Pebble Beach, St. Joseph's Academy in Texas, Austin College, Southern Methodist University, two children, David, seven, and Deborah, five.

Mrs. Thornburg Resumes Duties

Head librarian, Mrs. Ruth Thornburg, resumed her duties at the Harrison Memorial Library on Monday after an absence of four weeks.

Mrs. Thornburg went to Hampton, Iowa, called there by the serious illness of her father, S. J. Galvin, former member of the board of regents of the University of Iowa, and remained in Hampton to be present at funeral services following her father's death.

Art Commissioners Without A Quorum For Stymied Agenda

Without a quorum, art commissioners could not hold their regular April meeting yesterday afternoon. Maxine Albro, Nelo Drizari and Glenn Kearns were the only commissioners to arrive at city hall. Absent were commissioners Vaughn Shoemaker, Ruth Cooke, Geza St. Galy and Gilbert Boyer, chairman.

Yesterday afternoon's agenda contained two items, the artist-in-residence program and the arts festival planned for October.

The art commission has continued the artist-in-residence program until plans for the arts festival are completed. Festival plans are at a standstill until the city council decides whether or not to spend $5,000 to repair the Forest Theater.

On March 9 the city council continued discussion of Forest Theater repairs until the May meeting of the council. At that time the council will have three new members.

The art commission requested the city council to repair the Forest Theater on January 13 after hearing a report from Charles Thomas, chairman of the Festival co-ordinating committee, that groups working with him could not proceed with festival plans until they received a guarantee that the Forest Theater would be repaired.

Easter Observances In Carmel Churches Start This Evening

Edward Winckley following the celebration of the Holy Communion at 10:30 o'clock. His topic will be What Christian Suffering Is Not.

Good Friday service at the Church of the Wayfarer will be from 2:00 until 3:00 o'clock, conducted by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray. The theme of the meditation time will be: What Brings Us Here? Chapel Singers, directed by John W. Farr, will sing A Legend by Tschaikowsky and Connell K. Carruth will be at the organ.

Music by the Chapel Singers will be heard at the three identical Easter Services at the Church of the Wayfarer, at 9:30 and 11:00 and 12:30 o'clock. The choir, directed by John W. Farr, will sing Handel's Worthy Is the Lamb from The Messiah, O Sons and Daughters of the King by Leisring, and Randall Thompson's Alleluia, in addition to an introit and seven fold amen.

Dr. K. Fillmore Gray will conduct the services and his sermon theme will be: Let's Look Again. Connell K. Carruth will be at the memorial pipe organ and her selections will include: Dupre's Holy Jesus Is Risen from the Dead; Deck Thyself, My Soul with Gladness by Brahms, Handel's Violine, the Spanish carol In Joseph's Lovely Garden, and Schminke's Festal March.

At 9:15 and 10:45 o'clock there will be a special Church School Easter program in Fellowship Hall, to be conducted by Mrs. Victor H. Davis and Mrs. Herbert B. Blanks.

There will be a Good Friday Service of music and meditation at The Carmel Presbyterian Church from 2:00 until 3:00 o'clock. The Church will be open before and after the service for those who desire to come for quiet meditation.

The minister, Dr. Joseph M. Ewing, announces that the soloist, Miss Karen Steinke, will sing two Negro spirituals for the Good Friday service, Take My Mother Home and Were You There?.

Mr. Fred Lewis, organist, will play chorales, O World, I Must Leave Thee and O Lamb of God, Most Stainless, Streicher, Lamb of God, our Saviour, Bach, and When on the Cross the Saviour Hung, Bach.

There will be identical services at 9:30 and 11:00 o'clock on Easter Sunday morning at The Carmel Presbyterian Church. The minister, the Rev. Dr. Joseph M. Ewing, will use the theme, Old Faith and New Knowledge. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Sherry, will sing two anthems, As It Began to Dawn, Vincent, and Allelulia, Thompson. There will be a solo by Jack Douglas, director of music at Sunset School. Organ numbers by Fred Lewis will include Variations on O Filii et Filiae, West, the Chorale, Lord God, To Thee We All Sing Praise, Walther, Fughetta, Rheinberger. There will be a nursery for the care of infants and small children at both services.

At Carmel Mission Basilica, 5:30 o'clock this evening, a High Mass will be celebrated. There will be a Procession to Repository and Adoration until midnight.

On Good Friday afternoon at the Basilica, services start at 1:00 o'clock and will include Adoration of the Cross, Holy Communion and Stations of the Cross.

Holy Saturday services at the Basilica start with the Easter Vigil Service at 11:00 o'clock in the morning followed by High Mass at midnight. Confessions will be heard in the afternoon from 3:00 - 6:00 o'clock and in the evening from 7:30 - 10:00 o'clock.

On Easter Sunday, Masses will be celebrated at Carmel Mission Basilica at 7:00, 8:00, 9:00, 10:00, 11:00 and 12:15 o'clock. The combined boys and girls choirs will sing at all the services.

The Reverend Sonja Samiran announces that special Unity Good Friday services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at 135 West Franklin Street, Monterey.

An Easter Flower Service will be held on Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock at the House of Four Winds, Monterey, for Unity members. There will be special Easter music and a soloist.

A Unity class meets each Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in Carmel at the Morgan Studio, Lincoln and Seventh. All interested persons are welcome to attend, the Reverend Samiran states.

a phonograph, tape recorder and $300 closed broadcasting system.

A full moon shimmered on Carmel River Beach, the Santa Lucia Mountains and Point Lobos this week and was reflected on glinting ocean and surging surf, an unforgettably beautiful scene best observed from Scenic Drive at the tip of Carmel Point, except for seven reflector signs.

Installed to warn motorists that the cliff falls sharply away below the road at this point, the ugly signs effectively block southbound motorists' view of the moonlit bay.

We admit some safety device is necessary, but abhor the seven posts with glaring red reflectors, one very large, which the county has placed along the Scenic Drive roadway.

Carmel Forest commissioners at their meeting on April 7 approved the final report on the city tree survey requested by the University of California at Davis. Included in this report was the cost of planting a tree on city property, $21.64. This figure was arrived at from the following costs, material $6.14, labor, $5.28, equipment, $3.50, maintenance for a year, $6.72.

Commissioners commended Anthony Vasconcellos for removing a light placed on a tree at Junipero and Third, also appointed committees. James Dixon was sworn in as a forest commissioner. He replaces Herbert Blanks who resigned when elected chairman of the planning commission.

The Division of Beaches and Parks has established an 11:00 o'clock curfew at the Carmel River Beach parking lot, according to Wayne Cox, assistant superintendent of the Monterey district.

This week a rope is stretched across the Carmelo Street entrance to the lot at 11:00 o'clock each night and remains in place until 8:00 o'clock next morning. In June the rope will be replaced by a chain. Rangers patrol the area and will continue to do so in the future.

According to Mr. Cox, the Division of Beaches and Parks has taken this action because the area is not intended for overnight use and 11:00 o'clock seems a reasonable hour to request persons to leave the beach; secondly, the curfew will give peace and quiet to residents in the vicinity of the parking lot; thirdly the curfew will protect the beach and the people. In the past hotrodders created a nuisance at the parking lot, he said.

Carmel recreation commissioners on Tuesday authorized preparation of a plan for the Mission and First Street park site after hearing Frank Putnam, president elect of the Carmel Rotary Club, state that Rotarians are considering undertaking park development at the site as a community project. At a previous meeting lawn bowling and horseshoe pitching were considered possible uses for the north section of the park site by commissioners who would like the area developed as a senior citizen recreation spot.

August Nieto was elected chairman of the recreation commission for the coming nine months.

The Harrison Memorial Library board met yesterday afternoon and received a report from city attorney John Morse stating that the estate of the late Frances Adney was settled and her property, valued at $24,000, awarded to the library. The board decided to take no action at present in regard to selling the property left them in Mrs. Adney's will.

Another report to the library board was received from Carter and Slattery, construction engineers, relating to the condition of the reading room roof. The board requested the report after finding a beam in the roof had shifted. Carter and Slattery recommended installation of metal braces to remedy the condition and the library board will request bids for the repair work immediately. Board member Donald Craig will be in charge of this matter.

Mr. Craig was absent from the meeting yesterday, also board member Mrs. Gerrit Henry. Present were board members Mrs. Horace Dormody, Dr. Fred Farley and Horace Lyon.

Carmel Planners Propose Relocating Mountain View

ed from its juncture with Torres Street to pass behind the Presbyterian Church and enter Junipero Street south of the church.

On the advice of Building Inspector Floyd Adams that if the park closure is eliminated from the plan, there will be no further effort to find a solution to the problem, the planners decided to leave the park on the plan and change the wording of the descriptive matter from "close Mountain View" to "re-locating Mountain View."

Other features of the plan: closure of Ocean Avenue to through traffic, Ocean Avenue Mall, one-way streets, Junipero Street Civic Center, were retained. An official map is to be prepared for the planners to approve and pass on to the city council.

New planning commission members Mrs. Julian von Meier and J. B. Martin, Jr., were sworn in and seated.

A New Deal: Putnam, Whitaker, Whittlesey Elected To Council

elected and defeated is such that the absent vote cannot affect the election.

City hall was filled with spectators until the last returns from the four precincts were reported. Throughout the evening, a corps of high school students, acting as "runners," phoned in the count as it progressed at the precincts; the city clerk and his staff assembled the figures, and high school students marked them on the blackboard. High school students answered the phones at city hall.

Instituted four years ago by City Clerk Rose, election reporting service at city hall this year provided even prompter information, and considerable excitement during the early returns when it appeared that there would be a contest between May and Whitaker. The students on the phones at city hall had over 100 inquiries.

Tuesday night the new council will be seated, after the old council has canvassed the election, and City Clerk Larry Rose has been sworn in. He will preside as mayor pro tem over the new council until they have chosen their mayor. The commissions will then be assigned.

There are only two hold-over councilmen: Mayor John Chitwood and Fire Commissioner Gunnar Norberg.

Old Council To Meet Again Friday To Buy White Lots

The "old council" . . . three new members were elected Tuesday but will not be seated until April 19 . . . will hold a special meeting Friday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock to sign a five-year lease purchase agreement with Mrs. Arthur F. White for three lots next to the city corporation yard on Junipero Street; total ultimate price, $70,000.

At the request of retiring councilman Jim Buffington, the council will inspect the driveway of Dolores Lodge, Dolores near Eighth. Owner wishes to repave it, and since it is two feet in excess of legal width, a variance will be needed.

Council will consider passing a resolution reducing by $150 the salary City Clerk Larry Rose receives as comptroller and secretary to the several city commissions ($280) to equalize the increase in city clerk's salary from $450 to $600, passed by ordinance last week.

At the city council's special meeting Monday changes agreed upon between council and Mrs. White's attorney, Peter Ferrante, included an increase in the option payment and reduction of yearly lease. This does not involve a change in final price but increases the initial payment to $24,584 for purchase of one lot and option for the others. $750 a year will be paid for the use of the other two lots for five years, and at the end of five years, $41,666 for purchase of the remaining two lots.

Another change in the agreement: the lot to be bought immediately is not the one adjoining the Youth Center but the third lot, a "squeeze play," Attorney Ferrante cheerfully admitted, to make the purchase of the intervening lots more attractive should future city councils be tempted to drop the option on the two remaining lots at the expiration of the five-year lease.

On an inspection tour before the meeting, the council denied a variance to Irish Homes for a driveway at Fourth and Casanova.

Art On The Peninsula—

A group of still life paintings is featured this week at the Carmel Highlands Gallery situated in the former firehouse above Highlands Inn.

Mrs. Joshua Meador, curator, has selected the show from the work of local, Southern California, Seattle and Mexican artists.

Among the oil still lifes on display are paintings by Peninsula painter, George Podbereski, Jerry Joley of San Francisco, Richard Anthony of Southern California, Mexican artist Castro and DiSanto from Yucatan.

Walt Peregoy, Southern California, is showing a tempera still life; Lewis Ott, Southern California, a gouache still.

Water color still life pictures at the Highlands Gallery are by Tyrus Wong of Southern California and Richard Field, Seattle.

Drawings, serigraphs, lithographs, also local marines and landscapes in oil and watercolor are on display at the Highlands Gallery.

Joseph Bennett, Carmel Art Association member, won a $50 second prize for his picture, Old Lumber Wharf, entered in the thirtieth annual statewide oil show of the Santa Cruz Art League. The show opened in the League Gallery in Santa Cruz on April 3 and remains on display for the rest of the month.

Other local exhibitors are Eugene Baker, Jane Buffington, Wayne Dye, Stephen Hennessy, Ralph Jacobs, Jessie L. Quigley, Mildred Schmidtman, Abel Warshawsky and Sigismund Wolf.

H. S. POTLUCK THURSDAY

The annual High School P-TA potluck supper will be next Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the cafeteria. Officers for the coming year will be elected at this time and an honorary P-TA life membership awarded.

Max Tadlock, head of the speech department at Monterey Peninsula College, will be the speaker. His subject will be International Aspects of Education.

All parents are urged to attend this P-TA meeting. Mr. Tadlock has earned a Peninsulawide reputation as a humorous speaker on important and timely subjects.
